

If you align with the statement, check the box next to it.

- You are unsure how to talk with your customers about climate change (maybe you don't even use that term).
- You've been relatively silent on climate issues because you're concerned about taking the wrong stand or alienating members.
- You need data around Indiana landowner attitudes on carbon markets.
- You are worried regulations will be put in place without your industry's input.
- You see opportunities in an emerging carbon marketplace but do not understand how to participate.
- You need more information before developing your organization's position on climate change or sustainability.
- You would like to hear what other companies are doing in this space.
- You are already involved in sustainability AND want to advocate more.
- Generally, you are looking for a place to start and don't want to feel overwhelmed with all the information.

If you checked 3 or more boxes you acknowledge that the climate conversation is happening and you need to be a part of it. Join IN-CLIMATE.

---

inclimateindiana.com

sarah@inclimateindiana.com